Three Amigos Survey

Canada-United States-Mexico

April 3, 2025

Methodology

This week, we conducted a special poll of Canadians, Americans and Mexicans to explore their views on the current geopolitical context and its economic impact.

Method

Online survey among respondents 18 years of age or older.
(Canadian sample: n= 1,628 / American sample: n= 1,013
Mexican sample: n=1,003)

Respondents had the option of completing the survey in French, English and Spanish and were randomly recruited using LEO's online panel. An external supplier was used for the Mexico portion of the project.

Weighting

Results were weighted according to age, gender, mother tongue, region, education and presence of children in the household in order to ensure a representative sample of the Canadian population, according to age, gender, region, education, ethnicity, and number of people in the household in order to ensure a representative sample of the American population, and according to age, gender, region, education, and presence of children in the household in order to ensure a representative sample of the Mexican population.

When

Data collection from March 28 to March 30, 2025, for Canada and the United States, and from March 26 to 31st 2025 for Mexico.

Margin of error

For comparison purposes, a probability sample of this size yields a margin of error no greater than ±2.43%, (19 times out of 20) for the Canadian sample, ±3.08%, (19 times out of 20) for the American sample, sample and ±3.09%, (19 times out of 20) for the Mexican sample.

Significant differences

Data in bold red characters indicate a significantly lower proportion than that of other respondents. Conversely, data in bold green characters indicate a significantly higher proportion than that of other respondents.

Rounded data

The numbers presented have been rounded up. However, the numbers before rounding were used to calculate the sums presented and might therefore not correspond to the manual addition of these numbers.

Key Results

Some of the key highlights of our survey...

President Trump's Tariffs Viewed as a Major Concern in Canada and Mexico

Tariffs imposed by President Donald Trump are seen as a top issue in both Canada and Mexico. In Canada, more than a third of respondents (38%) identify tariffs as the most important issue facing the country. In Mexico, 18% say the same, making it the third most important issue after crime and safety (31%) and drug cartels and organized crime (19%). In contrast, only 1% of Americans consider unfair trade practices by Canada and Mexico to be the most pressing issue for the U.S.

Furthermore, a strong majority of Canadians (87%) and Mexicans (84%) believe tariffs on exports to the U.S. will negatively affect their countries' economies. In the United States, 52% think tariffs will have a negative impact, while 29% believe they will have a positive effect.

Donald Trump Viewed Unfavorably by Most Canadians and Mexicans

81% of Canadians and 76% of Mexicans have an unfavourable opinion of Donald Trump. Public opinion is more divided in the United States: 48% of Americans view Trump unfavourably, while 41% hold a favourable opinion.

Mexico Most Supportive of a Renewed Trade Agreement

Support for a future free trade agreement between Canada, the United States, and Mexico is highest among Mexicans, where an overwhelming 76% of respondents are in favour, significantly higher than in Canada (52%) and the United States (53%).

Frustration Aimed Primarily at Donald Trump, Not the U.S.

When asked about the source of their frustration toward the United States, a clear majority of Canadians (64%) and Mexicans (59%) say it is directed more toward President Donald Trump specifically, rather than the U.S. as a country. However, despite this distinction, 43% of Canadians and 35% of Mexicans still consider the United States to be an enemy country.
